

Animal companions

53 animal cards

by Helga Weule with Herta Ruhs

All living creatures today carry the traces of all living beings inside. Of those already gone as well as of those living on our side today. These traces are within our body and within our consciousness. This is a basis for mutual understanding.

For children this is self-evident. They play with animals, they play animals and they love animal stories, already ten thousands of years before Walt Disney. These children are inside of us adults as well. Animal cards invite into story telling. And they give hints how to make real, what our hearts long for.
