*In everyone there is an image of what he should become.
As long as he is not, his peace is not full.*

*In each one there is an image of what she should become.
As long as she is not, her peace is not full.*

Angelus Silesius (1624-1677)

In 1991, the first seminar „Leitbild. A time to discover personal meaning" took place. Since then, every year for 31 years, sometimes several times. In 2008 and 2009 it was called "Deciphering your own soul code. Bringing the inner image of uniqueness to life". Today it is called „Leitbild. The Fire of Desire".

We all know: we carry essential images within us that we return to again and again, because they give us meaning and orientation for life (Leitbild means "guiding image" in German). In cooperation with our unconscious, we can bring them to light with non-verbal and artistic media as well as symbols.¹

We recently looked at all the Leitbild posters available to us as photos and let them sink in. There are several hundred. There emerged these theme groups:

Mastering of transitions in life - Being/becoming a woman - Connecting to nature, elements and spirit - Sexuality - My gifts - Community - Myths - Helpers by the wayside - Abundance and scarcity.

Now, some or even many years after our own Leitbild process, we invite you to do three things:

1. To look back and ask yourself questions such as
How have I brought the values, attitude and content of my Leitbild into my life?
How do I manage again and again to leave orientation and liveliness aside?
(This was the question of the "demonology" in the seminar Leitbild 2).

2. To ask oneself the question: Which magic fairy tale, which myth touches me?
This is a personal assessment with the process "My personal myth" by Paul Rebillot.²

and

3. To discover which creation we would like to add collectively to the dance and sound of the world.

Please bring with you: your Leitbild poster and something that expresses your own liveliness.

¹ We received significant reinforcement for our Leitbild work from the West African traditional Dagara culture and from James Hillman. Malidoma Patrice Somé, The Healing Wisdom of Africa. Finding life purpose through Nature, Ritual and Community. New York: Penguin Putnam 1998. James Hillman, The soul's code. In search of character and calling. New York: Warner Books 1996.

² Another essential experience was meeting Paul Rebillot's seminar artwork "The Hero's Journey", which we pass on in the Adventure Life Association (www.adventurelife.eu): Paul Rebillot with Melissa Kay, The Hero's Journey. A call to adventure. Wasserburg: Eagle Books 2017 (first published 1993). One could say that the Leitbild work deepens the vision of the hero and conversely the hero's journey makes the polarity of vision and status quo, of hero and demon of resistance, holistically experienceable and fruitful.

Place of silence, power and alignment especially for people from business world and city life with their high clock rates. Right in the middle of Upper Austria's Inn quarter, 50 km north of Salzburg, Schalchen is situated near Mattighofen. Close to the Kobernaussen forest there is the hamlet Unterweinberg. Populated by a lot of trees, the site houses a new octagonal house with the house number 59a, a fireplace, shrines in the tradition of the Dagara culture and soon again a tipi. A good place for work on oneself and workshops.
