My life purpose, my everyday life and me

Tarot card "The fool"
in the Tarot deck of Waite & Smith, formerly Rider/Waite

*In everyone there is an image of what he should become.
As long as he is not, his peace is not full.*

*In everyone there is an image of what she should become.
As long as she is not, her peace is not full.*

Angelus Silesius (1624-1677))

The more conflict-ridden the time, the more important become self-reliance, community ability and a clear alignment in life. In the seminar "Leitbild" you gained insights into the meaning of life and vitality*) and developed a project for everyday life. Maybe a long time ago, maybe only recently. What experiences have you had with this in everyday life? In order to sift through this wealth of experience and make it useful for everyday life, we invite you to do three things in the seminar:

1. To look back and ask yourself questions like

How have I brought the values, attitude and content of my Leitbild into my life?

How do I always manage to leave orientation and liveliness aside?

2. To ask oneself the question: Which magic fairy tale, which myth touches me?

The process "My personal myth" by Paul Rebillot shows me which story I return to again and again and

3. to discover which creation we would like to add together to the dance and sound of the world.

Please bring your own Leitbild and something, in which your own aliveness is expressed.

Suggestions for attunement

Life purpose, ritual and community are central topics of the traditional Dagara culture in West Africa. Find out more in the video "Bridges between Europe and West Africa. Stories of the visible and the invisible" at <https://www.i-cons.info/videos/>. The US therapist James Hillman describes in The soul's code. In search of character and calling. New York: Warner Books 1996, how the "image of the oak in the acorn" becomes visible in biographies.

Paul Rebillot's seminar art work "The Hero's Journey", which we pass on in the association Adventure Life (www.adventurelife.eu), makes the polarity of vision and status quo, hero and demon of resistance, holistically experienceable and fruitful: Paul Rebillot with Melissa Kay, The Hero's Journey. A call to adventure.

*) The first Leitbild seminar took place 1991. 32 years ago. We recently looked at all Leitbild posters available to us as photos and let them sink in. There are several hundred. The important theme groups that emerged were: Transitions in life and mastering them - Being/becoming a woman - Being/becoming a man - Connection to nature, elements and spirit - Sexuality - My gifts - Community - Myths - Helpers along the way - Abundance and scarcity.

Wasserburg: Eagle Books 2017 (first published 1993). Our Leitbild work deepens the vision of the hero. Our interview "The Path of the Artist to the Healer" with Paul Rebillot reveals a most vivid human being, artist and therapist: Franz Mittermair, Helga Weule, Manfred Weule (eds.), From artist to healer. From the life and work of Paul Rebillot. Wasserburg, Eagle Books 2021. Interview as PDF on <https://www.adventurelife.eu/paul-rebillot/>

Place of silence, power and alignment especially for people from business world and city life with their high clock rates. Right in the middle of Upper Austria's Inn quarter, 50 km north of Salzburg, Schalchen is situated near Mattighofen. Close to the Kobernaussen forest there is the hamlet Unterweinberg. Populated by a lot of trees, the site hosts a new octagonal house with the house number 59a, a fireplace, shrines in the tradition of the Dagara culture and soon again a tipi. A good place for work on oneself and workshops.
